TOUR DETAILS

Mexico City was built on the ruins of the ancient Aztec city of Tenochtitlan. It is one of the oldest and largest cities in the Americas and it has the largest number of UNESCO world heritage sites. Colonial architecture, iconic artwork, yummy cuisine, and a rich cultural heritage offer visitors an endless array of activities that will satisfy any appetite. When it comes to Taxco, it is a colonial Pueblo Magico (Magical Town) that will conquer your heart with its many hills, cobblestone streets, striking

Spanish colonial architecture, rust-red roofs tangled in bougainvillea, and endless sterling silver workshops and jewelry stores.

- During this tour we will be walking on cobble stones, uneven pavement, and dirt roads. You will need to be on your feet and you will have to climb stairs in order to explore most museums, sites, and hotels. Please note that most buildings are old and DO NOT have elevators or ramps
- Walking is inevitable. In addition, you'll have to stand while touring museums and sites.
- Sometimes you will have to sleep with street noise and no (or weak) air conditioning or heater
- Are you a patient person? Service is great in Mexico but it is considered slow per American standards. Meals can take up to 1.5hrs or longer for a large group....patience comes in handy!
